DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments filed 4/24/2003 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.
2. In response to applicant's arguments, the recitation "narrow bandwidth super-regenerative receiver" has not been given patentable weight because the recitation occurs in the preamble. A preamble is generally not accorded any patentable weight where it merely recites the purpose of a process or the intended use of a structure, and where the body of the claim does not depend on the preamble for completeness but, instead, the process steps or structural limitations are able to stand alone. See In re Hirao, 535 F.2d 67, 190 USPQ 15 (CCPA 1976) and Kropa v. Robie, 187 F.2d 150, 152, 88 USPQ 478, 481 (CCPA 1951).
3. The office respectfully traverses applicant's argument that the local oscillator in Niki is not regenerative. Local oscillators regenerate samples after every cycle.
4. The office respectfully traverses applicant's argument that the quench circuit is not connected to the regenerative oscillator. In fig. 7 of Niki, 137 is directly connected to 105 and 136 and 138 are indirectly connected to 105.
5. The office respectfully traverses applicant's argument that elements 136 and 137 do not quench since 136 and 137 are merely gates. 136 and 137 are AND gates which function to quench by outputting a 0 when both inputs for an AND gate is not 1.
6. The office respectfully traverses applicant's argument that Niki does not teach a frequency sweeping circuit connected to the regenerative oscillator with the frequency sweeping circuit controlling operation of the regenerative oscillator to a desired narrow bandwidth around the transmit frequency. The frequency sweeping circuit is analogous to Niki's fig. 7 element 106. The regenerative oscillator is analogous to Niki's fig. 7 element 105. 106 is connected to 105. Niki further teaches that the frequency sweeping circuit controls the operation of the regenerative oscillator to a desired narrow bandwidth around the transmit frequency since 106 is connected to 105 and 106 is being controlled stepwise as shown in figs 3 and 5. This means that 105 will change in a narrow band which inherently has to occur around the transmit frequency for Niki's system to operate.

Response to Amendment

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Niki USPN 4,620,147. See prior action for details.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Niki. See prior action for details.

Conclusion

2. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
